From March 4. to March 11. 1735,6.

Orford, October 9.

LAST Thurſday the William of Hamburgh,---Worms, Maſter, laden with a Cargo of Linnen and other Goods, valued at above 30,000 l. was, by Streſs of Weather, drove on a Sand off our Beach, and beat over the Sand in the Night. The Cuſtom-houſe Officers of this Place, with the Deputy Vice-Admiral, came on board the Wreck with their Boat, and did all in their Power to prevent the Fiſher-Boats, and other ſmall Veſſels (which flocked about her immediately) from plundering the Cargo; but being overpowered, ſome Linnen was got out of her, by the Perſons in thoſe Veſſels, which has been ſince ſecured. The Sails, Rigging, &c. were taken quite away. The Aldborough Officers, and ſome Dragoons, coming to the Orford Officers Aſſiſtance, the reſt of the Cargo was preſerved from being plundered, and, 'tis hoped will be ſaved for the benefit of the Proprietors, the Wreck being now moored to Orford Beach, and above half unloaded by the Officers. The Maſter, one Man, and one Woman Paſſenger, were drowned, the Man Paſſenger being found ſitting in the Cabbin when the Deck was broken open. Another Woman Paſſenger was waſhed overboard when the Veſſel overſet, and the Return of the Wave threw her back on the Shrowds, where ſhe clung 17 Hours, and was taken off by a light Collier bound for Newcaſtle. When by the indefatigable Care of the Maſter of the Veſſel ſhe was ſomething revived, ſhe made the following Relation, viz. That the Ship being in Diſtreſs, the Captain and his Men took to their Boat, abſolutely refuſing, notwithſtanding her earneſt Entreaties, to let her and two other Paſſengers (a Man and a Woman) go with them, that they might have a Chance for their Lives; that the Ship ſoon after, drove off the Whiting, and turning over, all three went down; but ſhe afterwards was waſhed upon the Wreck, and was there 17 Hours, but the others were drowned; that ſhe was the Wife of Mr. Weintraube, a Hamburgh Merchant, who is now at London, and the Daughter of a Miniſter at Hamburgh, whom ſhe had been to ſee, and where ſhe ſtaid ſix Weeks; that ſhe took Ship at London with the ſame Captain (who was an Acquaintance of hers and her Husband's, and therefore was far from expecting ſuch inhuman Treatment from him that ſhe was returning with) he being a Trader to that City. She is now at Shields in perfect Health, excepting a few Bruiſes which ſhe received, and deſigns to venture herſelf to London with Mr. Heath, who, under God, was the Preſerver of her Life. Capt. Worms and his Men are tho't to be loſt, the Boat having been ſunk, and is ſince taken up by a Scarborough Bark. The Wreck is now lying near Woodbridge-Haven, and Abundance of Goods are taken up and carried aſhore.

Hague, Nov. 18. N. S. Letters from the Rhine adviſe, that the Troops on both Sides were marching into Winter Quarters, purſuant to the Agreement for a Ceſſation of Hoſtilities. Twenty-four Battalions, and twenty eight Squadrons, of the Imperialiſts commanded by Count Seckendorff, are coming to quarter in the Auſtrian Netherlands: Thirty nine Squadrons of Horſe and eleven of Huſſars, are to quarter in the Country of Liege; and in the Countries of Cologne, Bergue and Juliers, thirteen Battalions and twenty four Squadrons are to be quartered. The States of the Province of Holland are ſtill ſitting, and this Day came to a Reſolution to raiſe ſome Millions for the preſent publick Service, by way of a Lottery, and of Annuities for Life, the Scheme of which will ſhortly be publiſhed.

Lisbon, Octob. 18. N. S. The Crew of a Veſſel arrived here lately from Africa, reports, that the States General of the United Provinces, having received divers Inſults from the Corſairs of Sallee and Tangier, their High Mightineſſes had ſent a Squadron of Men of War into the Mediterranean, to oblige them to a ſuitable Satisfaction; and that mean while, the Ports of thoſe thoſe two Cities were blocked up ſo cloſe, that no Veſſel can go in or out of them.

Leghorne, Nov. 5. N. S. Divers Veſſels having on board ſome Spaniſh Cuiraſſiers, are ſailed for Spain; they are to be remounted there, and 'tis hoped will return no more into Italy, an Accommodation between the Emperor and that Crown being like to follow ſoon that with France. On Sunday laſt an Engliſh Veſſel arrived here in 15 Days from Tunis, with Advice, that the Dey lately depoſed had taken the Field again, at the Head of numerous Troops, to come and attack the new Dey, who is under the greater Embarraſſment, having ſent home the Algerines, and not daring to truſt too much to the Inhabitants of that City, on account of his having impoſed too many Taxes upon them.

Verona, Nov. 11. N. S. The Count de Khevenhuller the commanding General of the Imperial Troops in Italy, has acquainted the Count de Schulembourg, who commands thoſe of the Republick of Venice, with the Orders ſent him by the Emperor not to commit any Hoſtilities longer againſt the French Troops: The Imperial Huſſars have alſo ceaſed their Incurſions againſt the ſaid Troops, but continue them againſt thoſe of Spain; they were ſome Days ago engaged with the latter, and it is aſſured got the better of them; the Emperor's Troops approach nearer and nearer the Adige, they have already paſſed the Cologneſe, and Part of the Vicentine. The Court of France, has order'd to pay off the Notes given for the Payment of Hay, Straw, and Wood, that the French were furniſhed with in the Venetian Territories.

London, Nov. 18. They write from the Hague, that on Saturday the 8th Inſt. the Marquis de Fenelon, Ambaſſador of France to the States-General, notify'd to their High Mightineſſes, on the Part of the King his Maſter, that the Preliminaries of a Peace between his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty and the Emperor had been ſign'd at Vienna. 'Twas remark'd, that his Excellency made this Notification with a ſort of Coldneſs in his Behaviour, which he had not been us'd to practiſe at the Hague; and 'twas remark'd alſo, that he did not ask a Conference with the States-General Deputies, as uſual in Caſes of the like Importance; but contented himſelf with a ſimple Viſit to the Preſident of the Week, whom he acquainted in few Words, that the Preliminaries were ſettled and ſigned, but never offered a Word as to the Conditions they contain'd. 'Tis ſaid, that the Preſident received the Ambaſſador's Declaration with a very great Indifference, and only told him that their High Mightineſſes thought they had room to be ſurprized, that after the Steps they had taken for France, a Piece of News of ſuch Importance ſhould be communicated to them by the Emperor before his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty had had the Kindneſs to give them the leaſt Hint of it.

The Letters from Vienna, intirely condemn the Report, that the Preliminaries of Peace were concluded without the Mediation of the King of Great Britain, and ſay, that M. de la Beaume the French Miniſter at the Imperial Court, ſtopped a Month at Hanover, and that the ſaid Preliminaries were there negotiated with the French Miniſter at the Court of his Britannick Majeſty. The Treaty of Peace, may, indeed, meet with ſome Difficulties, but the Suſpenſion of Arms will certainly have its Effect, conſidering the Czarina's Approbation of it is already arrived; and to be ſure her Czarian Majeſty will not oppoſe the Peace, when Staniſlaus is no longer to be King of Poland.

According to our Advices from Aix la Chapelle, it ſeems certain the Congreſs is to be held there, Agents from all Parts being arrived to hire Houſes, and make other Preparations for the Reception of the Miniſters.

Nov. 20. We have Letters from Italy of the 18th Inſt. N. S. which mention, that the two Armies continue quier, though no Ceſſation has been publiſhed. 'Tis certain the French and Sardinian Troops have received their Orders; but the former being only Auxiliaries, cannot pretend to publiſh a Suſpenſion of Arms, and have no other Part but only to retire, in Caſe they chuſe to avoid Hoſtilities. The King of Sardinia is ſaid to wait the Receipt of a Courier from the Court of Madrid, before he ventures on any Steps, and it is believed his Majeſty has very good Reaſons for ſo doing.

On the 9th the Imperialiſts made a Motion in three Bodies, which gave ſome conſiderable Alarm, but they ſtopt at Dolo, a Poſt convenient for them to make a Deſcent immediately into the Mantuan, in caſe the Spaniards ſtick out.

Dublin, Nov. 11. We hear that a Man 18 Inches high, covered with ſtrong Hair, but otherwiſe naked, was taken in a Field near Longford, by a Farmer of that Country. The little Gentleman, upon being ſeized, demanded to know why he ſhould be ſtopp'd or interrupted in purſuing his lawful Occaſions, for that he was travelling to the North, with Intent to paſs over to Scotland. All Intreaties, it ſeems, were not forcible enough to procure him his Liberty, ſince we hear the Farmer has provided a Box, in order to bring him to Town in. He ſpeaks good Iriſh, and mimicks Engliſh, as it is commonly ſpoken by the Beaux.

They had laſt Week no leſs than two Perſons died in France upwards of 100 Years old. One was a Widow Lady of 112, who had buried 9 Husbands; and the other an Artizan, who marrying when he was 22, kept his Wife but five Days, and never ventured on another.

The Poliſh Dyet of Pacification broke up the 8th Inſt. N. S. without being able to ſettle the Election of a Marſhal.

His Imperial Majeſty has lately made Satisfaction faction to the Elector of Bavaria, for the Damage done him in cutting down his Wood, and making Lines upon the Frontiers of his Territory; in order to leſſen the Number of Grievances his Highneſs had to complain of.

Deal, Nov. 24. By Letters from Lisbon, dated the 18th of October laſt, we have a Liſt of 30 Spaniſh Men of War in Cadiz Bay and Gallicia, and of 10 French Men of War, that arrived in Cadiz Bay September the 25th. The French Ships are well mann'd, and good diſciplin'd Seamen and Soldiers, but their Ships not very good. The Spaniſh Ships very good, but not half mann'd, and the Hands they have very bad.

The Spaniſh Fleet have	1300 Guns,
The French	656
In all	1956
The Engliſh at Lisbon	1770
	186 Guns Differente.

Boſton, February 3.

We have received the following Account from Capt. James Turnbull, late Commander of the Brigt Falconburg, viz. That he ſail'd from North-Carolina on the 29th of Nov. laſt, for this Port, but was ſurpriſed at Midnight with an Account, that he had 4 Feet Water in the Hold; upon which he ſet both Pumps to Work, and ſcudded before the Wind, and at laſt freed her: But he ſoon after met with a Storm, which on the 4th of Decemb. carried away his Fore-Maſt, and with it 3 of his Men, one of which was drowned, but the other two were with much Difficulty got on board again, though one of them died ſoon after. The Veſſel being very leaky, and having received great Damage, beſides the Loſs of her Fore Maſt, they remained a miſerable Wreck for 28 Days, at the Mercy of the Wind and Seas in a very inclement Seaſon; during which Time, all the Men ſuffered extream Hardſhips by continual Labour, and want of many Neceſſaries, ſome being Froſt-bitten, others out of their Senſes, their Proviſions almoſt expended, and expecting to Founder every Gale of Wind, being then 40 Leagues to the Eaſtward of St. George's Banks. Thus having given over all hopes of Relief, on the firſt of Jan. they were providentially met by Capt. Avery, in a Scooner from Gibraltar, bound to Portſmouth in New-Hampſhire, who took them all on board his Veſſel, being 6 in Number, and treated them with great Humanity and Kindneſs, yet one of them died ſoon after. The remainder Capt. Avery put on Shore at Cape Codd, in a very weak and low Condition, and on Friday laſt Capt. Turnbull arrived ſafe in this Town.

Portſmouth, Feb. 6. On Tueſday laſt was buried 3 Children in one Grave (they dyed of the common Diſtemper) belonging to Mr. Bickford, which was all he had. We hear the Diſtemper rages again afreſh at York, and viſits the ſame Houſes where it has been already.

We hear from Portſmouth, that 7 Children dyed laſt Week of the prevailing Diſtemper, and that Mr. Boynton at Newbury Falls has buried his Eighth Child of the ſaid Diſtemper; but that it abates in ſome meaſure at Newbury and Hampton. That laſt Monday Night to the Eaſtward was heard a great rumbling Noiſe, which preceded a ſmall Shock of an Earthquake.

New-York, March 1. On Wedneſday laſt Mr. Thomas Jeffers, as he ſat at Table, cutting ſome Meat for his Children's Dinner, was ſuddenly taken with an Apoplexy; as his Wife (who by this Time had taken Notice of the change in his Countenance and the trembling of his Hands) was looking at him very wiſtfully, the Hand in which he held his Fork, ſlid from the Table, and hung by his ſide as paralytick; this rais'd them all from the Table in a great Fright. Mrs. Jeffers, with the help of her Servants raiſed him off the Chair, in order to help him to Bed, but found that he had loſt the Uſe of all his Limbs on one ſide. After they got him to Bed, as he was reaching to vomit, he clapt his Hand to his Side and cry'd out, O! my Side! Then was taken ſpeechleſs; the Doctor bled him, but to no Purpoſe, for he expir'd about 6 o'Clock that Evening. His Wife, who took the ſudden Loſs of her Husband much to Heart, was taken with an Hyſterick Fit as ſhe ſat in Bed by her Siſter's Side, on Friday Morning, of which ſhe dy'd. They were carried to the Grave and interr'd together this Afternoon.

They lived in a middle Station of Life, were good Neighbours, and lived very lovingly together.

[We have the following Accounts, via Maryland.]

London, Decemb. 2. Yeſterday's Mail brought the ſurprizing Account of the Imperialiſts driving the Spaniards and Sardinians out of the Mantuan, and raiſing the Siege of that Place, and the taking of others. There has been a Ceſſation of Arms about 20 Days on the Rhine, and Preliminaries for a Peace ſettled between France and the Emperor, at the Mediation of Great Britain.

Capt. Budden from Philadelphia paſt Graveſend Yeſterday; he has been ten Days from the Downs, having violent Gales; a vaſt many Ships are loſt in the Channel.

The Dublin Poſt, Nov. 25. ſays, they have had a great Storm, in which ſeveral Ships were loſt, and that the Penn-Gally, (Capt. Kirk from Philadelphia) parted her Anchors, and drove on the North Bull.

Philadelphia, March 10. We are informed by a Letter from Antigua, that the Sloop St. Andrew, Iſrael Cornuck, Maſter, who ſail'd from this Place for St. Chriſtophers on the 12th of December laſt, Founder'd ſometime in January, when they were about 130 Leagues from Land; whereupon the Company betook themſelves to their Boat and got ſafe to one of the Virgin-Iſlands, to the Leeward of St. Chriſtophers, in ſix Days afterwards.

We hear, that a large Scooner from Perth-Amboy, bound to Cape-Fear, Richard Hartſhorn Maſter, on the 4th of February paſt, founder'd when they were about 45 Leagues (as they ſuppos'd) diſtant from Winyaw; and the Company betook themſelves to their Boat, in which they continued about 48 Hours; when they were taken up by one Capt. Wyatt, bound to St. Auguſtine, with whom they continu'd 4 Days, and then judging themſelves near Land (tho' they had not the ſight of it) they rather choſe to betake themſelves again to their Boat than to go to St. Auguſtine, and accordingly the whole Scooner's Company, being ſeven in Number, left Capt. Wyat about 7 a Clock in the Morning, and about 8 at Night got ſafe on ſhore at Otter's Iſland, lying between Georgia and South-Carolina, and from thence proceeded to Charles-Town, where three of them (who bring us this Account) took their Paſſage in Capt. James Lusk for this Place.

We hear from St. Mary's County in Maryland, that on the 28th of Decemb. paſt in the Evening, the Houſe of William Brown accidentally took Fire, and burnt down to the Ground with Seven Children, whoſe Cries were heard, but being ſurrounded with Flames they could not be ſaved.

And from Cheſter River, we hear, that one Peter Bowman, who liv'd near the Mill, going home from Queen's Town ſomewhat in Liquor on the 14th paſt, fell from his Horſe and was found dead next Morning in the Road, ſuppos'd to periſh with the Cold.

Fryday Night laſt, the Houſe of John Wood at Woodberry Creek was burnt down, by accidental Fire.

On Saturday laſt a young Man belonging to Capt. Trenchard, rowing in the Boat at the Bow-Oar, miſs'd his Stroke, fell overboard, and was drowned.
